Summary

Conclusion:

We are a team of doctors and technologists who want to bring the best of healthcare to every person in this world. We firmly believe that good healthcare starts with people who need to take control of personal health irrespective of skill level, education level or income level. A private, secure patient controlled personal health record is the key building block for empowering personal health. Also we believe that easy storage and exchange of health information among patients, doctors and health care providers, is fundamental to better medical decision making. Roojh is our attempt to empower people and healthcare providers to make better decision. And we will use an optimal mix of human and technological approach to build sustainable solutions.
